1. All policies come with an inherent risk of failure to provide the desired result. I am a big supporter of public transit and would put my energy into developing a working model.
2. I support working with the province and federal government to increase the housing inventory (rental and social housing). Also feel that the federal plan to invest in our housing is a step in the right direction.
3. What we need is to replicate successful techniques from other countries that have yielded good results to mitigate climate change. I feel that it will not be a single policy but a series of initiatives that can help us achieve this goal.
4. For me development has to be done responsibly by not disturbing our green spaces, parks and our lakes. I would push for a Brampton style Eco park and lake enhancement strategy
