Dr. Niamh O'Laoghaire & Ms Anik Glaude: Varley Art Gallery

With over 25 years experience in the culture sector, Varley Gallery's Director Niamh O'Laoghaire has taught historical and contemporary art at McMaster University, operated her own gallery, and served as the Director of the University of Toronto Art Centre. Since 2016, Dr. O'Laoghaire has overseen the City of Markham's Public Art Program and Public Art Curator.

Over the last 14 years, Anik Glaude has strived to rectify imbalances within the Canadian cultural sector by centering the voices of women, Indigenous, Black, culturally diverse, and artists from the 2SLGBTQ+ community. As the Gallery's Curator, Anik Glaude endeavours to ensure Gallery mandates are relevant to the diverse communities that frequent it.

This is a unique opportunity to hear about the history and mandate of the Gallery and experience tours of current and permanent exhibitions.

Note: because this is an off-site event, our Business Meeting Agenda items will be either tabled to April's General Meeting or held via Zoom the following week.
